- 12 Where animals are sold for Export and kept by the Vendor until shipping space is available in the absence of written agreement to the contrary, the Vendor shall keep the animal free for six weeks from the date of Sale and thereafter shall be entitled to the cost of keep in accordance with paragraph 11.
- 13 The particulars shown in the Catalogue are furnished by the Vendors and are believed to be correct, but the Auctioneers accept no responsibility for any mistake or error therein. Vendors must intimate before or at time of Sale any mistake or misprint in their entry.

- 15 The Auctioneer is appointed judge of the Sale, with powers to the said Auctioneer to appoint an Arbiter, to whom are hereby submitted all disputes and indifference of any kind which may arise at or from the Auction, either between Exposers and Offerers, or among Offerers themselves. Introducing - Mr David Cornthwaite, bull judge for 2026 Castle Douglas Spring show

We are delighted to announce that David Cornthwaite will be judging the bulls at this year's Spring Show at Castle Douglas. David is a respected figure within the livestock farming community, with a long and distinguished career spanning many decades in breeding commercial and pedigree cattle.

Having farmed at Balgray near Lockerbie in Dumfriesshire, David, his wife Rosemarie and their employees ran a highly regarded cattle and sheep enterprise that became synonymous with quality and consistency. Under their careful management the Balgray herd achieved significant success at agricultural shows and on farm competitions, with their cattle winning championships and reserve titles at regional and national events.

Over the years David has hosted numerous workshops and training sessions, focusing on cattle grooming, stock judging and general livestock husbandry. He has always been keen to encourage the next generation of farmers and breeders with his passion for Galloway cattle. Recently retired from active farming, his lifelong dedication to farming and livestock breeding is widely recognised, and his experience as a Galloway breeder and eye for quality make him a worthy judge for this year's Spring Show and Sale at Castle Douglas.

GALLOWAY CATTLE SOCIETY

Tel 07760623985

Introducing - Fiona Gilligan, Heifer Judge for 2026 Castle Douglas Spring Show

Fiona Gilligan farms at High Creoch, Gatehouse of Fleet, where the Gilligan family has been tenants for over 52 years. Fiona was in partnership with her parents, Kathleen and Gordon, for 35 years and, two years ago, took over the tenancy and day-to-day running of the farm, with help from Robert McKie. Kathleen and Gordon have now retired but continue to take a keen interest in the breed, regularly attending sales and keeping in touch with friends.

High Creoch is home to 50 pedigree Galloway cows, predominantly Black, with a small number of White and Belted Galloways, all kept pure. Bullocks are sold as stores at Kirkcambreck Sale in October and through Wallets Mart in March. Heifers and bulls have been sold privately in recent years, with hopes of returning to the sale ring in the near future.

Although Galloways have not been shown from High Creoch since early 2000s, the herd enjoyed considerable success during the late 1980s and 1990s, exhibiting at Straiton, Stranraer, Stewartry, Wigtown, Dumfries and Moffat, and winning Championship honours at both Carlisle and Castle Douglas shows and sales.

Fiona values Galloways for their hardiness and longevity, noting their ability to thrive on minimal feed, graze poorer ground and improve hill land for sheep grazing. The 756-acre farm, of which 525 acres are heather hill, also carries 420 Blackface sheep—300 kept pure on the hill and 120 crossed with Bluefaced Leicester to produce Scotch Mule lambs. With her lifetime involvement in pedigree Galloways, extensive practical experience and proven success both in breeding and exhibiting, the Society is delighted to welcome Fiona as a highly capable and knowledgeable judge.

Introducing Douglas Waugh - Our Shadow Judge for 2026 Castle Douglas Spring Show

We are pleased to welcome Douglas Waugh of Kilnstown, Bewcastle as shadow judge for this year's show. Douglas has many years of practical experience farming both cattle and sheep and is well known locally for the quality of the livestock on his family farm.

Galloways have been a feature of the Waugh family's Kilnstown Farm for more than 140 years. While 35 pure-bred Galloways are still maintained, they form the base maternal line for a 75-strong commercial herd, primarily composed of Salers-cross Galloway cows, alongside a few Limousin-cross Salers-Galloway females.

The farm also maintains a herd of pedigree Limousins. This is a well-established system at Kilnstown, with the Waughs having introduced continental sires back in the 1990s.

All 110 cows run together on a very commercial basis in the recently built sheds at Kilnstown and the neighbouring farm, The Park, which was purchased in 1999. Each female has to pull her weight, particularly the pedigree herd. Farming the 1,000 acres of Kilnstown and The Park, set on wet clay ground near Bewcastle just south of the Border, brings its challenges, with wet weather being one of the biggest.

Douglas, along with his brother Robert, represents the seventh generation of Waughs at Kilnstown. With their father, Andrew, and Douglas overseeing the cattle, Richard (Andrew's brother) and Robert manage the 1,000-ewe flock of Swaledales. This close family involvement ensures that both the cattle and sheep enterprises are run efficiently and to the highest standards.

Although Douglas has spent a lifetime working with livestock, he will be joining us this year as a shadow judge to gain experience in the judging process. This role allows him to observe experienced judges, develop a deeper understanding of breed standards, and see firsthand how decisions are made in the show ring. We are pleased to have Douglas with us and look forward to the experience he will gain, which will help him broaden his knowledge of livestock judging and prepare for judging at future shows and sales.
